

Kay Vaughan

I have worked in the field of Careers Information, Advice and Guidance and Education Business Partnerships for the past twenty years and have worked across Lancashire during that time. I am currently the Enterprise Coordinator for Blackburn with Darwen and Burnley supporting schools and colleges to increase the range and impact of meaningful encounters for their young people with local employers. Providing an alternative provision poses many challenges but ensures the needs of our most vulnerable learners can be met successfully.

I am married with a seven-year-old son and I was born and educated in Blackburn.

I believe my experience in managing the Connexions Service and previous member of the Youth Justice Board in Blackburn with Darwen alongside my current role in raising the aspirations of young people through the engagement with employers will enable me to support St Thomas's Centre effectively.

I am wholeheartedly committed to ensuring the best possible outcomes for all the children attending St Thomas' PRU.
